

How to find a local financial counsellor

1. Go to moneysmart.gov.au/managing-debt/financial-counselling
2. Scroll down to the map
3. Type in your suburb or postcode and click the 🔍 symbol
4. Services are indicated on the map with 🗺️
5. Hover over 🗺️ to see the service name. Click on 🗺️ to display the full detail for each service (shown to the left of the screen)

How to connect

- A service that offers 'general help with debts and money problems' is usually a good place to start. If you have specific issues, for example, you need emergency relief or gambling support, that may influence your selection
- Once you've chosen a service to go to, you can contact them using the phone number or email address listed
- If you have trouble using the map, or need a more immediate initial phone consultation, you can call the National Debt Helpline on 1800 007 007. There is also a chat function available at ndh.org.au. After an initial consultation, the National Debt Helpline can refer you on to your local service for ongoing support
- Remember – financial counselling services are always free, confidential and independent. Interpreters are available and there are no visa restrictions.
